Digital Production – week 1

Hi class! I hope you are all doing ok and keeping yourselves safe and sane.

This is the first week of 'continuing learning at home'. This is a new way of doing things for the SSHS community. I don't plan for this to be a similar experience to the distance learning course available from the department of education. Nobody wants this to become a strict platform with graded assignments and tests. I don't want that either. I'd like to treat this as an opportunity to explore ideas.

Not everyone has hardware and software that can take advantage of the adobe creative cloud accounts that you all have. Let me know what you have access to in terms of resources. The adobe package requires modern hardware but there are other programs we can use that will work on most machines, free ones too! Remember BBT – 'Audacity', 'Weebly', 'Movie Maker', 'Gimp' and 'Paint'.

If you can use the adobe stuff but forgot your user id and password let me know, I'll dig it up for you.

For this week try to see what programs you can run on the computer you have. If you don't have access to a computer at home, don't worry, you can still participate. This is not going to be about assignments you hand in, but more about your discovery of new ideas, and old ones too.
